| Nature of Abuse and Brief Narrative:One allegation of involuntary seclusion was substantiated against the program. A youth was placed in seclusion for multiple hours during the overnight shift. The program had no CESIS or program supervisors available for staff on shift to get continued authorization every five minutes after the first 10 minutes of the seclusion. |                | Corrective Actions Taken or Ordered by the Department, and Outcome:ODHS consulted with Albertina Kerr management following the incident, and the program has implemented a more robust system for ensuring personnel qualified to authorize the use of seclusion and physical restraint are always available. The program has also updated its policies and practice in ways designed to reduce the duration of seclusion and restraint. |                                                    |
